Ten Ways to Glorify God

(Ways #6 - #10 will be in next week's Bulletin)

1. In our thoughts. God knows our minds and our hearts, and our inner self usually reflects our outer actions, deeds and attitudes. So if our desire is to glorify God in everything that we do, then we should ensure that our thoughts and our emotions are glorifying Him by remaining true to His commandments. This isn't always going to be easy, especially during rough patches in life, but it's during these trying times that our glorification of God means the most.
2. In our words. The way we speak to others and about others should be glorifying to God. So avoid abusive or harsh words, sarcasm, gossip and negative language that's meant to hurt, insult, abuse or belittle.
3. In our deeds. "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 5:16). This includes not only the activities we partake in for others, but also those we do for ourselves. Our deeds should be a reflection of Christ. So when people see what you do for others, they see Christ in your actions. And in glorifying Him, we should be sure not to put the focus on ourselves.

4. In our attitude. Our perspective about life, people and ourselves is an outward reflection of our inner self. People are usually turned off by a negative or pessimistic person. How can a person see Christ in cynicism? It's important to maintain a Godly attitude that encompasses patience, goodness, kindness and compassion.
5. In our physical self. The way that we treat the bodies that Christ gifted us with is a way of glorifying Him. Keeping our bodies healthy by not overindulging or under nourishing ourselves, or abusing it with drugs. Modesty is also important in presenting ourselves in a manner that glorifies God.

A Simple Answer

A new employee had been caught coming in late for work three times and the fourth morning the foreman decided to read the riot act. "Look here," he snapped, "don't you know what time we start work around here?"

"No, sir," said the man, "they're always working when I get here."

A factory manager found that production was being hampered by the tardiness of his people returning from the lunch hour.

When the whistle blew few were at their machines. He posted a sign by the suggestion box offering a cash award for the best answer to this question: "What should we do to ensure that every man will be inside the factory when the whistle blows?"

Many suggestions were submitted, and the one that was selected solved the problem. But the manager, a man with a sense of humor, liked this one best, though he could not use it: "Let the last man in blow the whistle."
